Travel Protection

We believe in protecting every beautiful Airstream so it looks new for years to come. The Travel Protection Package is for the times when the Airstream is towed across less than favorable conditions, such as dirt or rocky roads. These additions to the front of the trailer protect the vital corners and windows from debris being kicked up from the tow vehicle's tires. They pay for themselves in the long run.

Depending on the model year of the Airstream, a front window rock guard is installed to protect the glass. And it's quite fashionable too - like a pair of designer sunglasses! To each side on the lower quarter panels a "skirt" can also be installed. The skirt is made of stainless steel, and protects the vital area where rocks, salt, and other debris found on the road find there way catapulted against the precious aluminum skin.

Top Left: One of two stainless steel rock guards installed to each side on the lower quarter panels of an Airstream.
